THE COMMONWEALTH).

Extract from Gov. Letcher's Message.

The condition of our country at this time excites the most serious fears for the perpetuation of the Union. "Clouds, o'erlapping clouds, are weaving o'er our house an evil woof, a fearful canopy." The country is torn by dissensions; fierce and angry excitement exhibits itself in all sections; passion and prejudice have taken absolute posses-ion of the minds of the people, throughout the and. The vile spirit of faction, "which pollutes the fountain of national honor, and digs the grave of patriotism," shows itself on all sides. Confidence is destroyed; fraternal feeling has been sup-planted by intense sectional hate; the spirit of conciliation has been smothered and crushed, and the affections of the people, North and South East and West, appear to have been entirely with drawn from their government. The ties of brotherhood have been severed; and, though living under the same Constitution, the sections seem to be as hostile, each to the other, as if their citizens has mostle, each to the other, as if their citizens belonged to unfriendly governments. Distrust has marred the pleasure of friendship and social intercourse; bitterness and unkindness have crushed out fraternity. Unity of feeling, unity of action is now gone. It is hardly possible for a government to live and flourish under such adyorse circumstances! "We must not, however, look mournfully into the past." That is beyond the hope of recall. We must wisely improve the present; correct its errors; reform its abuses; re-L. WEITZEL,

It is interesting to trace our progress, from the formation of the Consitution up to the present time. The results will be found in the highest degree gratifying to our pride as a people, and immensely important, so far as our power and influence as a nation are concerned. What was the area of our country in some miles, embraced by Families can be furnished, either for weddings or parties, with every article suitable for such occasions, upon the shortest notice and upon the most reasonable terms.

Our power, our influence, our prosperity, our agricultural, mechanical and mannfacturing wealth, have increased beyond all ex-pectation. That banner which is borne up, and which has been carried forward by the unseen yet steady hand of progress, has attained a position far in advance of the hopes and anticipations of the founders of our government. Surely no peo-ple have been blessed as we have been, and it is melancholy to think that all is now about to be sacrificed upon the altar of passion. If the judg-ments of men were consulted, if the admonitions of their consciences were respected, the Union would yet be saved from overthrow. Every calm considerate, and reflecting mind is filled with apprehensions of the most painful character; every patriotic heart throbs with anxiety, and all conservative men throughout our extended country are seeking to devise some means of escape from are seeking to devise some means of escape from the evils that now threaten our peace, and the continued existence of the government. All ace and feel and know that the danger is imminent, and all true patriots are exerting themselves to save us from the perils now impending over us. The dark gloom of apprehension is fast gather-ing around us, and if saved at all, the wisdom, prudence, and patriotism of the country can alone aided by Divine Providence) be relied upon to

The article of the Constitution, to which reference is here made, is in the following words, and (quote it, insamuch as it will be referred to herefter in this communicat "The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both

Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the ap-plications of the Legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for propos-ing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the Logislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the ther mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress."

Under this article, the Constitution of the United States has been amended on three several oc-casions in our history, and those amendments have all been exceedingly valuable and important. The first ten amendments were ratified by some of the Etates in 1789, by others in 1790, and by the residue in 1791. Another amendment was proposed in 1794, which the President of the United States announced in his message to both Houses, dated January 8th, 1798, as having been adopted by the constitutional number of States. The last amendment was proposed in 1803, and adopted by the constitutional number of States in 1804. These amendments were proposed and adopted at periods less alarming, perhaps, than at the present day. Still their adoption was necessary to insure peace and quiet to our country, and were demanded by a proposed of severe to upblic applied.

ed by a proper deference to public opinion.

In the present condition of public affairs, why cannot such additional amendments as the circumstances now existing require, be proposed for ratification and adoption? The necessity is manifest, and the duty to adopt all constitutional measures before we resort to the ultimate remedy of secession is imperative. Is it not monstrous o see a Government like ours destroyed, merely because men cannot agree about a domestic insti-tution, which existed at the formation of the Government, and which is now recognized by fif-teen out of the thirty-three States composing the space to a commentary upon your action respect-ing "a conference of the southern States." That reference does not appear to me to be dictated by a kind spirit. It wears the aspect of dissatisfaction with your decision, and, in connection with other portions of the message, indicates distrust of, and hostility on his part, towards this Commonwealth. The duty which I owe to Virginia demands a notice of so much of this communication as relates to our State, and the action of her

They declare, "that the General Assembly of Virginia, recognizing in our present relations with the non-slaveholding States an imperative necessity for decisive measures, does not yet distrust the capacity of the southern States, by a wise and firm exercise of their reserved powers, to protect the rights and liberties of the people, and to preserve the Federal Union. For this purpose, we earnestly desire the concurrent action of the southern States." The authorities of Virginia acted with kindness and courtesy towards the State of South Carolina and her estimable Commissioner, and in declining to go into a southern conference at that time, they

South Carolina having determined upon her future course, without consultation with any one of her slaveholding sister States, her late executive announces in his message, "It is too late to receive propositions for a conference; and the State would be wanting in self-respect, after having deliberately decided on her course, to entertain any proposition looking to a continuance of the present Union. The late Executive of South Carolina is not content to announce this determination, but his recommendations look to the embarrassment of every slaveholding State on the border which is not disposed to follow her lead. Hence we find his message an open and undisguised proclamation of war upon the interests of all the border slaveholding States, unless they unite with South Carolina.

In the recent message of the Governor, of Mississippi, I find a reference to the border States of the same character, manifesting the same spirit which has been exhibited by the late executive of South Carolina:

"As it is more than probable that many of the citizens of the border States may seek a market for their slaves in the cotton States, I recommend the probability of the property of the p Union. We can get no safer or better guarantee in the present constitution, and that has proved impotent to protect us against the fanaticism of the North." It may be too late now to confer with her sister States, but there was a time when she could have conferred with them with great propriety, and perhaps advantage to berself and them. The Governor states that Colonel Memminger was not sent to Virginia "to plan a dissassippi, I must still say, that I will solution of the Union, but to save it, if possible."

Before she determination, and to have made an effort to secure the "concurrent ados possible," and perhaps devantage to be self-interest the southern sisters by surprise.

The financial and commercial policy of the Federal Government in past years has, I have no coubt, in a great degree determined her action. I am not without hope that the present diffi-culties will find a satisfactory solution in the end. Let the New England States and Western New York be sloughed off. SHELL OUT .- We learn that the Governor's Guards have appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions from our citizens, to aid in buying uniforms for sundry individuals who desire to be enrolled in the State Guard, but who, for want of means, are unable to buy the necessary equipment.

We hope that the men of capital in our city will respond liberally to this call. Men of substance are particularly interested in the preservation of order and in the protection of property. If the existing revolution does not go backwards, there will be need of a strong military force to keep down the restless, plundering vagabonds who abound in every part of the country. In peace, pre- gates beyond the limits of the United States, pare for war. Preparation is not war, and to consult as to "concerted action," &c. We every sensible, patriotic citizen will aid the Governor's Guards, to the extent of his city of Montgomery, Alabama. Yancey re journal remarks as follows: means, in organizing such a military company as will do credit to the capital city.

If Kentucky sends commissioners to a convention of slave States, let it be to a convention in which no States will have a voice except those who are in the Union. She would deserve to be kicked if she allows any State which has seceded to control her action in regard to the preservation of the Union. What a magnificent spectacle to witness! Kentucky consulting how to preserve the Union, consistently with her rights, with States who have destroyed the Union, and who do not desire to preserve it! If seceding States should desire to send Commissioners, hear what they have to say, but allow them no more power than a delegate from a territory is allowed in the Congress of the

If secession, in this brief time, has reduced the proud and arrogant South Carolinians to the humiliation of begging of those whom they have ever affected to despise, what will be their condition in a year? In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the Syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILL-FUL NURSES in New England, and has been and with NEVER-FAILING SUCCESS in

THOUSANDS OF CASES. It not only relieves the child from pain, but in vigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidiity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping the Boneck and Wind Colic, and overcome convul-sions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY in the world in ALL cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE, yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE, to follow this medicine, if timely used. THE ANALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES .- There is growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others, whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage, until they seem "native and to the manor born." and to the manor born.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

of the following complaints: SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AF-FECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is ob-structed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleaning the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.
